and assessed at Rs 3 of with the Jodi and Local cess amounting to Rs 20-4-0 It will be observed from the Enam Patta that one Dugganna Heggade was the Vahivatdar in 1883.

During the Shekdar's enquiry, it was found that Patel Shanmiah Heggade and his relatives were enjoying the lands as if they were family property, paying a small amount for Puja in the Temple. On 27-11-05, the Patel says that Duggana Heggade was his uncle's son and has produced nothing in writing to show how he came to be the Temple Vahivatdar. On the Shekdar's report, the Dy Commr directed that the lands should be resumed and called for proposals for their better administration.
